Didn't Know I Had Kidney Trouble

I was out of breath and from down pressure had no appetite, was tired and suffered with backache most of the time. I did not know that the kidneys were the cause of this. But soon after I began taking Swamp Root I began taking Swamp Root. There is such a distinct feeling in the back and it goes away. I feel like I have discovered the system. It has cured me without any side effects and has no harm in even great and I cheerfully recommend it.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering and worry follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Weak kidneys cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; make your head ache and back ache, cause indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a yellow, jaundiced complexion, you feel as though you had heart trouble, you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength, get weak and waste away.

To overcome these troubles take Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to of HOLLIS STREET—MAUDE ADAMS IN "PETER PAN." Every seat sold. "Standing Room Only" sign out, everybody pleased and determined to see this delightful fantasy which renews one's childhood and reveals Maude Adams in all her charm of personal magnetism and womanly grace—this is the story. "Peter Pan" began its second week here last night. Miss Adams makes it all seem so natural, so possible that it renews our belief in fairies.

COLONIAL MARRIAGE CAHILL IN "MARRYING MARY." Good nature and politeness, and a very pretty stage setting, make of this nowset piece a delightful treat and some of the best of the season. But that Eugene Cowles of the Bostonian fame is not given more opportunity to show his considerable dramatic gifts is a regrettable enough. Mrs. Cahill seems even more magnetic than ever. This is her last work with the company.

COLUMBIA—"JOLLY GRASS WIDOWS." Funny—grass widows are always plucky, and these are about the jolliest ever. Ruth Everett, George Gault and Arthur Hadden make a fine team. The play is a good one, but the acting is not very strong. In it are the Zarzuros in a pantomime Melrose act; Greet and Greet; Melzures, in a burlesque of the Zarzuros; and a mechanical doll. The cake-walk feature is to be given to mow more light.

In Bout with Gans, Chicagoans Will BET $25,000 ON HERMAN

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—News of Kid Herman's match with Joe Gans created a sensation on the West Side, where the little Chicago champion is idolized, and immediately his friends started in to form a mob to back Herman in his coming fight with Champion Gans.

"We'll back Herman till the skies fall," said one of the West Side fans, who has been on the Kid in every right he has had of recent years.

"There will be a $25,000 mob," said another, "back the fight with Gans, and we'll bet $25,000 on Herman. It's a sure thing, because the whole town will be betting on the whole town will be betting on a glorious victory."

Kid Is Popular.

There is a discounting of the popularity of the little fighter in the Chicago belt. In every saloon, clothing store, butcher shop, grocery stand or news agency the little fighter's picture is part of the decorations. If you happen to inquire where the fighter is, the store or saloon keeper will look at you with amazement. "Not know him?" "No, who is he?"

"That's what's the Kid, Kid Herman, the greatest fighter that ever lived," said a fellow, "he's a sure thing, because the whole town will be betting on the whole town will be betting on a glorious victory."

JACK PALMER LOST BOULDER ON FOUL

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Jack Palmer of Newcastle lost the heaviest championship of England to a fight at the National Sporting Club with Jim Meek, feeling the latter in the ninth round. A big crowd of enthusiastic spectators were present, and there was great interest manifested in the outcome of the battle.

Meek has been waiting for a chance to fight Jack Palmer for some time, but the latter was not ready to take the fight. Meek, however, seemed to make much impression on the champion. As the fight went on, the two men were matched for a fight of $2,000.

At the start of the battle Meek fought to win. He forced most of the fighting and landed more blows in the early rounds than did his opponent. None of his punches, however, seemed to make much impression on the champion. As the fight went on, the two men were matched for a fight of $2,000.

YALE BRESHMAN MAY SURPASS SHELLIN

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 29.—George Almon Coy of Milford, Conn., fullback on Yale's football eleven, has been picked by Dr. Frank J. Berra, medical examiner at the gymnasium, as the best built and probably the strongest man in the entire college, while his remarkable versatility in athletic life fair to surpass even the achievements of Tom Sherrin, Coy is brother of Sherrin Coy, the star end of Jordan Brown's eleven.

George Coy is the product of years of constant athletic training, and he has paid careful attention to physical culture, of which he is an ardent devotee. He comes to Yale with a remarkable record in preparatory school athletics, having been the star performer at Hockinson, where he played football and basketball for three years. He has won the hammer and put the shot. It is a crack header and a great deal of general ability.

WINNING MAXWELL CAR OFF ON TRIP TO COTHAM

BY J. C. KERRISON.

A ten-horsepower Maxwell has accomplished a feat heretofore deemed impossible and high-powered cars. It is that of driving 2,500 miles without stopping for fuel or repairs. It has indeed done more than that, as at 10:30 o'clock, when H. E. Weaver returned from Worcester on what is believed to be his last trip to that city on this trip, the car had covered 2,500 miles without once stopping the engine for any kind of adjustment. To be sure, there were two occasions when it looked as though the end of the non-stop trip had been reached, the car was when the operator changed a spark plug, and the other when it became necessary to adjust a spring in the counter-shaft. Fortunately, this was done without any trouble, and the car went on its way.

Learn to Cultivate a Sympathetic Tone

HOW far three or four miles the voice, but the tone which implies that the voice is important of the "voice" of a man or woman is not so much a matter of the voice as it is of the tone. We say words must be heard and understood just how we speak in them, and that we say them with our lips only. Our tone, therefore, is the voice of the heart, and it is the voice of the heart that we must cultivate.

At any time of our life, we have a voice of the heart, and it is the voice of the heart that we must cultivate. It is the voice of the heart that we must cultivate, and it is the voice of the heart that we must cultivate.

Ways to Overcome Tendency to Blush

In old-fashioned novels the heroine blushed even more frequently than she wept. Her blushes, however, were not so much troubled by blushing, properly because she has her sense well to hand, and her heart is healthy.

Here and there, however, we find a heroine who blushes so much that she is almost unrecognizable. This is not a healthy condition, and it is not a healthy condition, and it is not a healthy condition.

Non-very is this? It is a very different thing from the blushing of the heroine. It is a very different thing from the blushing of the heroine, and it is a very different thing from the blushing of the heroine.

Be Contented if You Want to Have Enduring Beauty

By Beatrice Fairfax

THERE are a great many discontented girls in the world. They are dissatisfied with the existing order of things and long for a change. They want to be first of all better conditions than they are.

For instance, a girl may long to be a great, fashionable lady, but supposing she were suddenly given the chance to be one, would she know how to fill the position?

Girls are constantly wanting to leave their homes and go upon the stage with the vagrant, but they will do so when they get there. They will do so when they get there, and they will do so when they get there.

Let me tell you, girls, that home is the very best place in the world for you. On every day and every night you want to, but come to you and your mother at the end of the day.

Be discontented with yourself if you must be discontented, for that will stir you to help self-improvement. But don't get into the habit of being discontented with your surroundings.

You may think your life is hard and tedious, but it is not so hard as it is. It is not so hard as it is, and it is not so hard as it is, and it is not so hard as it is.

Guard Your Health

If you are strong and well you have everything to be thankful for. It is the greatest blessing a girl can have.

Don't run into the way of thinking you are the hardest that can be borne. It is not so hard as it is, and it is not so hard as it is, and it is not so hard as it is.

Be contented if you want to have enduring beauty. It is not so hard as it is, and it is not so hard as it is, and it is not so hard as it is.

Be contented if you want to have enduring beauty. It is not so hard as it is, and it is not so hard as it is, and it is not so hard as it is.

FAMILY BOOKKEEPING.

The illustration on this page is not a cartoon. It's simply a good picture of American home life.

How many of our readers that are married have played a part in a scene like this!

The wife is anxious to do her best, to make the money earned by the husband go as far as possible for all the family.

The husband is content to give his honest, steady work to keep the home going, keep the children at school, keep the wife looking as well as other men's wives—but it's a pretty hard struggle.

It's a hard fight, because the pay of the husband stays the same, WHILE THE CHARGES OF THE TRUSTS FOR LIFE'S NECESSITIES CONSTANTLY INCREASE.

It isn't only in the home of the very POOR man, or of the MODERATELY poor man, that this hard bookkeeping problem causes worry and often tears.

Those that are well-to-do feel it.

The Ice Trust comes with its INCREASED BILL.

The butcher sends in his INCREASED BILL, with the explanation, only too true, that he can't HELP himself if the Trusts increase the price.

The milk dealer is forced to INCREASE HIS BILL—how can HE help himself when the MILK Trust announces cold-bloodedly that "the price of milk to consumers will increase so much per quart from this day on?"

Rents increase constantly BECAUSE OF RAPID TRANSIT SERVICE FORCES CONGESTION OF POPULATION, and because the Trusts, dodging their share of taxes, put all the taxes on the home.

Many a man and wife must spend their evenings puzzling and planning over these household books.

The butcher MUST be

Try to Own a Suburban Home
It Will Make You a Better Citizen and Will Help Your Family

are swift trolley roads to the suburbs and five-cent fares. Ten or twelve miles mean no more to-day than two or three miles before the trolley's advent.

Besides, the suburbs have pure air, sunlight, roomy houses, grassy lawns. Their social advantages are the BEST. They are ideal places to bring up children.

Don't you wish you owned a suburban home TO-DAY. Mr. Wage Earner, instead of laying aside the monthly rent? You might as well be paying the same sum as a monthly installment on a permanent home.

It was a Frenchman who said that his plot of ground was small on top, but he "owned it all the way through." That is the home-building spirit. It is the cornerstone of GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

Did you ever notice the unconscious dignity of home owners? The suburbs are peopled with citizens to whom life means more than a hand-to-mouth struggle.

Beginning wisely, and within their means, they are soon INDEPENDENT. As the suburbs grow, the value of their modest holdings grows. As the city spreads, population pushes out.

NOW is the time for prudent men, with small incomes, to get rid of the rent habit, or at least prepare to get rid of it. Buy one or more suburban lots, and build as soon as you can.

Circling Boston, within and without the city limits, are a score of suburban communities, where present investments in property are as safe as government bonds. They will pay better interest than government bonds or the banks. They will, in time, lift you above the class of rent payers.

We would not advise buying suburban lots or houses without careful investigation. Select the place where you would prefer a permanent home.

Then buy a lot, or two or three lots, on the best terms possible. If you can't do it this year, prepare to build on one of the lots next year or the year after.

Meanwhile, your investment will be GROWING IN VALUE. And you will be saving money with a fixed purpose to build a home. Talk it over with your home partner. Ride out and see the various suburbs. Get the trolley habit.

THE SUBURBAN HOME IS A BADGE OF PRUDENCE AND AMBITION.

It's the Heavy Problem in Almost Every American Home paid. The milkman MUST be paid. The Gas Trust, that steals twenty cents out of every dollar, MUST be paid.

The children MUST have shoes; the father must be respectfully dressed for his work. The mother MUST dress so that her children and her husband may at least not be ashamed of her.

The doctor's bill comes in every little while.

AND AHEAD OF THEM

ALL THERE IS OLD AGE, THE POSSIBLE SICKNESS OF THE MONEY EARNER.

It isn't very amusing, this kind of bookkeeping. Many a good man and his wife are puzzled sorely with the problems that the little brown books bring each month.

Readers, you will never settle this bookkeeping problem EXCEPT WITH YOUR BALLOTS.

The trusts will continue to steal more and more AS LONG AS YOU LET THEM.

WHO IS THEIR CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR, MORAN OR GUILD?

How long do you suppose it will be before it is EIGHT DOLLARS A TON unless you vote your votes you interfere?

The trusts are ALL UNITED. Throughout the United States their interests are identical. In Massachusetts they are lined up solidly behind their candidate, Guild. The Gas Trust, the Electric Light Trust, the Street Railway Trust, the Textile Trust, the Ice Trust, the Coal Trust, the Banking Trust, the Railroads, will do everything in their power to re-elect the man who appoints their servants to the bench, and who placed a Standard Oil man from New York in charge of the banking interests of Massachusetts.

You can solve your home bookkeeping problem only by voting to stop this ever-increasing thieving of the Trusts.

You have got to VOTE to protect yourselves. And in a very few days comes your chance.

One candidate for Governor is SUPPORTED by every Trust that robs you monthly in your household bills, in your effort to build a home, in your tax bills, your commutation ticket, or your street car service.

And one of the candidates for Governor IS OPPOSED BY EVERY ONE OF THESE TRUSTS THAT ROB YOU.

It isn't necessary to tell you which man is the Trust candidate for Governor, or which man is the anti-Trust candidate for Governor.

YOU KNOW. It is for you to decide whether you will vote in favor of these high prices or against them; whether you will vote in favor of Trust government by a handful of men, or popular government by millions of husbands and fathers.

That's the problem at this election—there isn't any other.

You can vote for Guild and the Trusts; or you can vote for Moran and yourself.

She Discusses the Evils of Cigarette Smoking

As Practiced by Women of European Countries

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

ANY time the statement has been made in my hearing that it was an evening of Europe to see women of good morals and good social position smoking in public places. During three months of journeying about four countries and in many cities and resorts I have seen but two women smoking in public. Both were Russian veterans in Her battles, to judge from their appearance. I saw them at Interlaken, Switzerland, and they were smoking their cigarettes in the hotel corridor and in the reading room. There were heavy lines about their mouths and purple bags under their eyes, and their expressions were hard and tired, their skins chapped and flaking. They were not women who had associated with homes, husbands, children or happiness. The race track and Monte Carlo would seem a more suitable environment. The scavenger himself was a waiting porter, preclaiming the effect of cigarette smoking on the undeveloped body and mind.

Smoking in Clubs

SMOKING in women's clubs in Europe is unquestionably the habit, and the growth of this habit among women is due to men, like all her vice. I heard a charming woman recently regret her inability to enjoy a cigarette because she said her husband wanted her to smoke with him. She said that when three or four of them became so addicted to the cigarette that they were wretched if deprived of a "smoke" after each meal, the husbands loudly protested.

"It is one thing to have your wife take a few puffs with you alone, after dinner, and quite another to see her as crazy for her smoke as some old man for his pipe," said one of these husbands.

That is probably the feeling of most men who observe the cigarette habit. But they are responsible for the growing custom and must make the best of the situation.

The Tobacco Scavenger
In Paris I saw a sight that added to a beautiful hour for me. Under the restaurant window where I sat a wretched man and a boy passed. The boy's body was dwarfed and he was hollow chested and stooped shouldered. His face was clay colored and his eyes were utterly devoid of expression. He was searching along the pavement where men lounged, smoking and eating their coffee or other beverages, and presently he reached down with a sharp-pointed cane which he carried and eagerly snatched up a stub of a cigar from the dust of the pavement.

Then he indicated another to the rascal, snatched and wretched-looking man behind him, who secured it, and the two passed on.

They were tobacco scavengers who scoured the streets of Paris for the stumps of cigars and cigarettes and sell them to manufacturers of smoking tobacco and cigarettes. These stumps, taken from the dust and filth of the street, are dried and chopped and sold to young boys and other patrons of the cheap cigarette and pipe.

It is a criminal act. It is the desire of the average human being for some sort of excitement. It dates back to the earliest ages, and aboriginal man is proved to have consumed substances from roots and herbs which gave him passing exhilaration or moved him after a day of hunting or fighting.

It is the desire of our modern civilization to have some sort of excitement or diversion. It is the desire of a good old age and found enjoyment in life before the discovery of either tea or coffee.
